

Individual Reflection

André Kejovaara

Week 5

What can I do to learn or understand better?

Keep participating in the group discussions and doing active research in how to solve tasks. Being open to ideas and listening to everyone.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

By being active in our group meetings and sharing my own knowledge and experience to the entire group, I can help the group move forward. I will also try to lift those who aren't as active in the group discussions (for whatever reason) by asking them questions and doing my part to make sure everyone gets a say. You never know if someone is too shy or afraid to speak sits on a golden idea or thought.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

I've been active in the group meetings, taking part of discussions and decisions. I have been part of sprint planning, stand up meeting, the sprint retrospective and the team reflection.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

As stated before, I've been active in discussions with the team. This week I have worked more with the design of the project and have presented a mock-up to our stakeholder. I received some inputs which have since been addressed to match the stakeholders preferences. The design was also accepted by the group.
